Who we are and what we do

This insurance is provided by Hollard Insurance Partners Limited (Hollard), ABN 96 067 524 216, Australian Financial Services Licence (AFSL) 235030.

Hollard is responsible for this PDS, issuing your policy and the assessment and payment of your claim. In your policy 'we', 'us', or 'our' means Hollard.

This insurance is distributed by the Commonwealth Bank of Australia (CBA) AFSL 234945. CBA operates under its own AFSL and is authorised to promote and arrange applications for, or acquisition of certain general insurance products issued by Hollard. CBA does not act on your behalf and will only provide factual information relating to these products. CBA does not guarantee the obligations or performance of Hollard or the products Hollard offers.

It is important to note that any advice that we may provide is general only and does not take into account your individual circumstances. You will need to read this PDS and any other relevant policy documentation to determine if this product is right for you.

If you require personal advice, you should obtain these services from a suitably qualified adviser.

Who is this insurance for?

This insurance is for customers who own their home and/or the contents in their home.

Full details of the cover and applicable definitions, exclusions and limitations are set out in this PDS.

Your policy

This document contains details of your cover, your responsibilities and the claims process, that help you make an informed decision whether to buy a policy from us. It also contains details on how and when to get in touch with us.

Your policy is a contract between you and us consisting of the following documents that, when read together, set out your cover:

- this Product Disclosure Statement (PDS);
- your latest Certificate of Insurance;
- any applicable Supplementary Product Disclosure Statement (SPDS);
- any endorsements or special terms we've issued to you for your policy.

This PDS uses words that have special meaning. For the definition of these words, refer to pages 78 - 81.

When you take out a policy, we will issue you with a Certificate of Insurance. Your Certificate of Insurance gives you specific, detailed information about your policy, including any Optional Covers selected by you and any special conditions imposed by us.

Make sure you carefully read these documents to be sure that our cover meets your home insurance needs. By purchasing a policy with us you confirm that you have read these documents. Keep these documents in a safe place for future reference.

This information has been prepared without considering your objectives, financial situation or needs. Before making any decision about this product you should read this PDS, including any applicable SPDS, and consider this information in relation to your own circumstances. You should also read the Financial Services Guide (FSG). A copy of the Hollard and CBA FSGs are available at commbank.com.au/importantdocs or by calling 13 13 61 for a paper copy.

It is very important that you comply with:

- 'Your responsibilities' (see pages 49 - 55); and
- the terms and conditions of your policy.

If you do not, we may in some circumstances (as set out within this PDS), refuse to pay your claim, reduce the amount we pay you, or even cancel your policy.

All monetary amounts referred to in this PDS are in Australian dollars and include GST.

The information in this PDS may be updated from time to time, where required and permitted by law. You can access information about any updates free of charge by contacting us on the details provided in this PDS. Where the update is to correct a misleading or deceptive statement or an omission that is materially adverse from the point of view of a reasonable person deciding whether to acquire the policy, we will provide you with a new PDS or SPDS.

Cover explained

We offer cover for your building and/or contents under this policy. You can choose to purchase either Building or Contents, or both.

This policy provides cover for a defined list of Insured Events. It is not a maintenance policy and does not pay to rectify building defects or faulty workmanship, to improve bad design, or to resolve issues that have occurred due to insufficient maintenance or general wear and tear.

Our Home Insurance provides cover for:

- Insured Events;
- Legal liability;
- Additional Benefits; and
- Optional Covers when selected by you.

However, cover is limited by:

- General Exclusions that apply to the whole policy;
- Exclusions that are specific to individual Insured Events, Legal liability, Additional Benefits and Optional Covers; and
- Limits on the amount we will cover for certain items and benefits.

Choose your level of cover

We offer two levels of cover for your building and/or contents under this PDS. Choose the level of cover that best suits your needs:

- Classic Cover: which covers a range of Insured Events and Additional Benefits as set out in this PDS; or
- Plus Cover: which provides the same cover as Classic Cover, plus:
 - more Additional Benefits including Gap cover;
 - higher limits for 'Removal of debris'; and
 - higher coverage limits for some benefits and options.

We also offer several Optional Covers – see pages 39 - 44 for further details.

Your Certificate of Insurance will show the type of cover(s) and any Optional Cover(s) you have selected.

What is your 'building'?

This is the building as defined below, which is located at the insured address listed on your Certificate of Insurance.

For the purpose of this insurance your 'building' is defined as a fully enclosed structure with walls and a roof, that is used primarily for residential purposes, and that can be locked up. It includes any fixtures or home improvements at the insured address, secured outbuildings (such as your garage) and other domestic structural improvements at the insured address that comply with local government or other statutory requirements at the time of their construction.

Building Cover provides cover for your building for the Insured Events shown on pages 17 - 24 and Legal liability on pages 25 - 27.

Additional Benefits provided with your Building Cover are detailed on pages 28 - 38 of this PDS.

Your building does not include:

- a new building while it is under construction;
- homes where strata, community or company title insurance is required over the main residential building(s);
- farms, hobby farms or like sites;
- buildings that are rented out at the same insured address - for example, a tenanted granny flat;
- carpets, carpet tiles, floating floors, floor rugs, internal blinds or curtains (these are part of your contents);
- temporary or mobile structures, including caravans and trailers;
- shipping containers;
- portable above-ground swimming pools or portable spas;
- items within the building that are not fixed;
- any wharf, jetty, pontoon, bridge or causeway;
- dams and lakes;
- culverts or drainage channels;
- loose or compacted surfaces - for example, but not limited to, earth, gravel, pebbles, rocks, topsoil or bark; or
- plants, trees, hedges, shrubs, lawns and all other plant life and artificial grass. Limited cover is provided for these items under the Building Additional Benefit 'Damage to trees, plants or shrubs' (see page 31 for further details).

What are your 'contents'?

Contents means household goods or personal belongings, usually kept at the insured address where your home is located, and:

- are owned by you, or a family member, or for which you are legally responsible by written agreement; and
- are not permanently fixed or fitted to the building.

If your building is also insured by your policy, we will consider building materials at the insured address due to be installed at the insured address (including items such as cupboards or sinks) as contents.

Where you are the owner of a strata titled property, your contents also means fixtures and fittings that are attached to the building that:

- are owned by you; or
- you are legally responsible for by written agreement and are not otherwise insured under strata insurance.

Contents Cover provides cover for your contents for the Insured Events shown on pages 17 - 24 and Legal liability on pages 25 - 27.

Additional Benefits provided with your Contents Cover are detailed on pages 28 - 38 of this PDS.

There are limits to the amount we pay for contents claims. The fixed limits that apply are detailed on pages 12 - 16 and other limits may be noted on your Certificate of Insurance or in this PDS.

Your contents do not include:

- gas and electrical appliances, light fixtures and alarm systems that are built-in and permanently connected to the gas or electricity supply, or under bench dishwashers (these are part of your building);
- unset gemstones;
- gold and/or silver bullion/ingots/nuggets;
- negotiable instruments including software, data and other documents that can be cashed;
- coupons and gift cards;
- trees, shrubs, hedges, pot plants or other plant life including lawns and artificial grass;
- animals;
- motorised vehicles (other than lawnmowers, wheelchairs, golf buggies and e-bikes), farm vehicles, go-karts, caravans and trailers, or any of the parts or accessories for these vehicles including GPS units designed for use in vehicles;

- non-motorised watercraft greater than 3 metres, motorised watercraft, aircraft, (including hang gliders, but not including drones and RC aircraft with a wing/rotor span of less than 1.5m), and/or the parts and accessories of each;
- shipping containers;
- tools of trade (other than the limited cover provided under the Additional Benefit 'Tools of trade'); or
- contents used for business activities, stock in trade, inventory or items used in connection with a business (other than the limited cover provided under the Additional Benefit 'Contents in your home office').

Summary of cover

The following table summarises the Insured Events we cover, the Additional Benefits we provide and the Optional Covers available under:

- Building Cover; and
- Contents Cover.

It is important to note this is a summary only and the full terms and conditions, including limits and exclusions that may apply, are covered within this PDS which should be read in full.

Insured Events

Your Home Insurance policy covers your building and/or contents when the loss or damage is caused by one of the following Insured Events during the period of insurance. The cover is subject to the terms and conditions including limits and excess(es) as detailed in your policy.

We outline over the next few pages what is covered and what is not covered under the Insured Events.

In addition, there are policy 'General Exclusions' on pages 45 - 47 which may apply.

Matching Benefit conditions are outlined on pages 61 - 68. Additional exclusions included on your Certificate of Insurance may also apply.

Insured Events

Accidental glass breakage

What is covered

When we insure your building, we will cover the cost of replacing the following building related items:

- window glass and other fixed glass; and
- shower screens, basins, baths and toilets.

When we insure your contents, we will cover the cost of replacing mirrors and fixed glass in contents items such as furniture.

We will also cover the cost of:

- repairing or replacing the frame of the applicable window, door or shower screen if this is necessary to enable the glass to be replaced;
- repairing or replacing any other part of your building and/or contents which has been damaged by the broken item; and
- disconnecting and reconnecting any electrical components to the damaged item.

What is not covered

Breakage of:

- any glass unless the break extends through the entire thickness of the glass;
- the screen of a computer, television set or other type of visual display unit;
- glass vases, ornaments or hand-held mirrors;
- glass forming part of a stove top, cooking surface, heater or oven door;
- glass in a glasshouse or greenhouse; or
- glass in the roof of a conservatory, sunroom, or similar.

Earthquake, tsunami and volcanic eruption

What is covered

Loss or damage as a result of an earthquake, tsunami or volcanic eruption.

What is not covered

Loss or damage sustained after the first 168 hours of the initial earthquake. This does not prevent a claim being made for loss or damage sustained after the first 168 hours, if the policy covers that damage as a new Insured Event.

Escape of liquid

What is covered

We cover the cost of damage at the insured address caused by sudden, unexpected, accidental and without warning escape of liquid from any fixed pipe, fixed tank, waterbed, aquarium, household appliances or fixed household items used to hold liquid.

If you do suffer loss or damage to your building or contents, you must take immediate action to prevent any further loss or damage.

You must report an escape of liquid to us as soon as you become aware of it. Any additional damage due to a failure to report the event may not be covered.

Note: We will pay up to the amounts shown below to search for the unknown source of a leaking pipe but only if the water or liquid from the leaking pipe is causing damage to your building or contents.

Limits
Classic	Plus
Up to $500	Up to $2,500

What is not covered

Loss or damage caused by or resulting from:

- the gradual seepage of water or other liquids;
- a leaking or faulty shower recess or base;
- an inadequate drainage system;
- wear and tear or gradual deterioration;
- the escape of liquid occurring as a result of a gradual process of leaking, splashing, dripping or overflowing;
- the escape of liquid from any fixed item used to hold liquid due to overflowing as a result of a tap being left on;
- liquid escaping pipes designed to leak (such as an irrigation system);
- water or other liquids entering through an opening made for any building, renovation or repair work;
- a lack of routine maintenance as defined in the section 'Keep your building and contents in good condition and well maintained' (see page 55);
- the escape of liquids from a plant pot, vase, terrarium, beverage container, cooking pot, bucket, watering can or watering system;
- the escape of liquids from swimming pools, fixed spas and inflatable/portable pools or spas;
- the cost to repair or replace the item from which the water leaked or escaped;
- the cost to replace any liquid that has escaped;
- loss or damage to any area of the building that has been repaired or renovated before we can inspect and find the cause of damage; or
- loss or damage to retaining and freestanding outdoor walls.

Fire

What is covered

Loss or damage as a result of fire (where there is a flame) including bushfire, and explosion.

What is not covered

Loss or damage:

- as a result of a bushfire that occurs in the 72 hours following the purchase of your policy, unless you are replacing an insurance policy with equivalent levels of cover to ours, without a break in cover or on the same day your cover started you:
 - moved into the home as a tenant; or
 - entered into a contract to purchase the home.

If your replacement policy with us has higher sum(s) insured than you had on your previous policy, you will not be covered for the higher amount(s) until 72 hours after the increase was made;

If you request to increase your building and/or contents sum(s) insured you will not be covered for bushfire at the increased amount(s) until 72 hours after the increase was made.

- caused by any process involving the application of heat where there is no flame, including cigarette burn marks and scorch marks caused by an appliance designed to heat up, such as an iron or radiator (unless you have taken out the Optional Cover 'Accidental damage');
- caused by the ignition of any mineral spirit or dangerously flammable substance brought onto or kept at the insured address in quantities which are in breach of any statutory regulations; or
- caused deliberately by someone who:
 - lives in your home; or
 - is at the insured address with your consent or the consent of someone who lives in your home.

Impact

What is covered

Loss or damage as a result of:

- a falling tree, tree branch, power or communication pole;
- a vehicle or trailer, an aircraft or watercraft;
- debris falling from space, or a satellite dish, television or radio aerial which breaks or collapses; or
- any animal, excluding any animal kept at the insured address or a domestic animal.

What is not covered

Loss or damage:

- caused by tree felling or tree lopping at the insured address; or
- to driveways, paths, paving or underground services caused by a vehicle, crane or earthmoving equipment.

We do not cover the cost of:

- removing or lopping trees which have fallen but not damaged your home; or
- removing tree stumps.

If the impact is caused by a vehicle, you are required to submit a police report as soon as reasonably possible. Refer to 'What to do in the event of a claim' on page 56.

Lightning

What is covered

Loss or damage as a result of lightning.

Malicious damage

What is covered

Loss or damage as a result of malicious damage (including vandalism).

What is not covered

Loss or damage caused by someone who:

- lives in your home; or
- is at the insured address with your consent or the consent of someone who lives in your home.

You are required to submit a police report as soon as reasonably possible. Refer to 'What to do in the event of a claim' on page 56.

Riot, civil commotion or industrial unrest

What is covered

Loss or damage as a result of a riot, civil commotion or industrial unrest.

What is not covered

Loss or damage:

- sustained after the first 168 hours of any riot, civil commotion or industrial unrest. This does not prevent a claim being made for loss or damage sustained after the first 168 hours, if the policy covers that damage as a new Insured Event; or
- caused by someone who:
 - lives in your home; or
 - is at the insured address with your consent or the consent of someone who lives in your home.

You are required to submit a police report as soon as reasonably possible. Refer to 'What to do in the event of a claim' on page 56.

Storm, rainwater and flood

What is covered

Loss or damage as a result of a storm, rainwater or flood.

What is not covered

Loss or damage:

- that occurs in the 72 hours following the purchase of your policy, unless you are replacing an insurance policy with equivalent levels of cover to ours, without a break in cover or on the same day your cover started you:
 - moved into the home as a tenant; or
 - entered into a contract to purchase the home.

If your replacement policy with us has higher sum(s) insured than you had on your previous policy, you will not be covered for the higher amount(s) until 72 hours after the increase was made;

If you request to increase your building and/or contents sum(s) insured you will not be covered for storm, rainwater or flood at the increased amount(s) until 72 hours after the increase was made.

- caused by actions of the sea;
- caused by hydrostatic pressure or hydrodynamic pressure;
- to plants, trees, lawns and artificial grass;
- to swimming pool covers, spa covers or plastic or vinyl swimming pool liners;
- to retaining and/or freestanding outdoor walls;
- to fences and gates that are not structurally sound or well maintained;
- to loose or compacted surfaces of paths and driveways;
- involving cracking to paths, driveways or any outdoor surfaces;
- to a sporting surface or court;
- to external shade cloth and/or shade sails more than 5 years old;
- caused by water entering your building due to building alterations, renovations or additions;
- caused by water that has seeped or percolated into your building;
- occurring due to gradual deterioration, or wear and tear;
- caused to external paintwork if that is the only damage to that part of your building; or
- from any earth movement or vibration including erosion, subsidence, landslide, mudslide, settling, collapse, earth shrinkage and expansion which does not occur within 168 hours of the storm, rainwater or flood ceasing. This does not prevent a claim being made for loss or damage from earth movement or vibration which occurs after the first 168 hours, if the policy covers that as a new Insured Event.

We also do not pay for the cost of cleaning or removing mud or debris out of swimming pools and spas and/or replacing the water.

Theft or attempted theft

What is covered

Loss or damage as a result of theft or attempted theft.

What is not covered

Theft or attempted theft:

- by someone who lives in your home;
- by someone who is at the insured address with your consent or the consent of someone who lives in your home;
- that occurred when your home was not sufficiently furnished for normal residential purposes; or
- from a multi-residency insured address where the theft occurred from any common property, common or public area or unenclosed individual car park or car space.

You are required to submit a police report as soon as reasonably possible. Refer to 'What to do in the event of a claim' on page 56.

Legal liability

We will cover you for legal liability to pay compensation as a result of an accident caused by your negligence that occurs during the period of insurance, that causes death or bodily injury to another person or physical loss or damage to another person's property.

If your building is insured, you are covered for your legal liability for accidents that occur at the insured address, that you are legally liable for as owner and/or occupier.

If your contents are insured, you are covered for your legal liability when:

- the accident occurs outside your insured address but within Australia; or
- you are a tenant and the accident occurs at your insured address; or
- your insured address is part of a strata, group or community titled property, the accident occurs at your insured address and you are legally liable as owner or occupier.

If your legal liability claim is covered, we will pay the costs of compensation awarded against you by an Australian court or under a settlement agreed to by us. This cover includes reasonable legal fees and expenses incurred.

You must contact us before you incur any legal fees or expenses. If you do not, we will only pay for legal fees or expenses we consider you have reasonably incurred up to the amount we would have paid had you contacted us first.

The most we will pay for any event(s) arising directly or indirectly from the one original accident/event, source or cause is $20 million in total under this and all other policies issued by us which cover the legal liability event. This amount includes all legal costs and expenses incurred with our consent or which you have a legal liability to pay.

We will not pay for legal liability that arises:

- if you admit liability without our prior written consent. If you do, we may reduce or refuse your claim to the extent we were prejudiced by your admission;
- from the death or illness of, or bodily injury to, you or your family, or to your employees arising out of their employment by you;
- from loss or damage to any property that is owned or controlled by you, your family or your employees;
- from any alterations, repairs, renovation or additions to your home where the total cost is more than $50,000;
- because of vibration or interference with any land, building or property;
- due to any erosion, subsidence or landslide;
- from any animal other than a domestic dog or cat that is kept at the insured address;
- because of a dog that has been declared a dangerous breed by a relevant Australian authority;
- from, whether directly or indirectly, or that concerns or is connected with, asbestos (including any materials containing asbestos in any form or quantity);
- from tree roots;
- as a result of any actual, alleged or threatened contamination or pollution of any property, land, the atmosphere or any watercourse or body of water (including ground water) other than arising from an occurrence which is neither reasonably expected nor intended by you and is a consequence of a sudden cause which takes place at a clearly identifiable time and place during the period of insurance;
- from pregnancy;
- from the transmission of any virus, illness or disease;
- from the supply of any alcohol or drugs;
- from participation in any professional sport;

- from the terms of any agreement you have entered into, other than a lease or rental agreement, unless you would have been liable if the agreement did not exist.

You are not covered where you, or a third party with your knowledge, have deliberately misled us.

There is also no cover where a General Exclusion applies (refer to pages 45 - 47).

Additional Benefits

Depending on the cover you have selected, you may also be entitled to the following Additional Benefits.

Your Certificate of Insurance details whether you have selected Plus or Classic Cover, Building and/or Contents Cover as well as your current sum(s) insured. This will determine what Additional Benefits apply in your situation.

Some Additional Benefits are paid within your sum insured, and some are paid in addition to your sum insured. Limits on what we will pay also apply. For details on each please read the relevant section.

Additional Benefits are subject to 'General Exclusions' on pages 45 - 47 and additional exclusions included on your Certificate of Insurance may apply.

Portable valuables

This Optional Cover can be selected with:

- Contents Cover

 What is covered

We cover you for accidental loss or damage to your eligible portable valuables anywhere in Australia and New Zealand. Any claim under this Optional Cover will be settled in the same way as claims for your contents. If you have selected this Optional Cover, you do not need to include the value of your portable valuables in your Contents sum insured.

Portable valuables cover options
Group Cover	Itemised Cover
You can choose an amount to cover eligible items without listing them individually. You are covered for a maximum of up to $1,000 per item, and you can nominate an overall claim limit of either: • $2,500 • $5,000 • $7,500. The Group Cover limit will be stated on your Certificate of Insurance. Group Cover has fixed limits and if this does not suit your needs you can choose the Itemised Cover option.	You can cover individual items by listing them with their value on your Certificate of Insurance. You are responsible for advising us of each item and ensuring it is listed on your Certificate of Insurance with its correct value.

The types of items that can be insured under Portable valuables cover are listed in the table on the following page.

General Exclusions

No insurance policy covers everything, so it is important to understand the exclusions of your policy.

The following exclusions apply to all types of cover under your policy.

What is not covered under your policy?

You are not covered for any loss, damage or liability caused directly or indirectly by, in any way connected or resulting from:

1. bushfire, storm, rainwater or flood that occurs in the 72 hours following the purchase of your policy, unless you are replacing an insurance policy with equivalent levels of cover to ours, without a break in cover or on the same day your cover started you:
 - moved into the home as a tenant; or
 - entered into a contract to purchase the home.

If your replacement policy with us has higher sum(s) insured than you had on your previous policy, you will not be covered for the higher amount(s) until 72 hours after the increase was made;

2. your building being unoccupied for longer than 60 consecutive days. This exclusion will not apply to loss or damage caused by Fire, Storm, rainwater and flood, Lightning, Earthquake, tsunami and volcanic eruption and Impact that occurs during the period of time in which the building is unoccupied (see page 52);
3. your building being unoccupied for longer than 120 consecutive days, unless we have agreed to continue to cover you in writing (see page 52);
4. actions of the sea, including where these are a result of high tides or wind or atmospheric changes;
5. the gradual rising of the levels of the sea, oceanic waters or other marine waters;
6. gradual deterioration, including wear and tear, rust, corrosion, depreciation, fading or deterioration from exposure to light;
7. condensation, mould, mildew, wet or dry rot, rising damp or dampness, that has not been caused by an Insured Event;
8. inherent defects, structural faults, faulty workmanship or faulty design. We will only apply this exclusion where you knew or should reasonably have known the issue existed;
9. damage to your building or part of your building that at the time it was built, renovated or installed was not compliant with the relevant local government regulations, or the requirements of any other applicable statutory authority. We will only apply this exclusion where you knew or should reasonably have known about the non-compliance;
10. failure to maintain the building and/or your contents in good repair;
11. insects (including termites), birds or vermin;

12. scratching, chewing, tearing or soiling by any animal;
13. any earth movement or vibration including erosion, subsidence, landslide, mudslide, settling, collapse, earth shrinkage and expansion not directly caused by an earthquake, storm, rainwater or flood, explosion, lightning or sudden impact;
14. tree roots;
15. tree felling or tree lopping at the insured address;
16. any deliberate action by you, others living at the insured address, or other people who have entered the insured address with the consent of you or others living at the insured address, including visitors and tenants;
17. acts or omissions by you or someone with your consent, if the acts are unlawful or are intended to be done with reckless disregard for the consequences;
18. lawful seizure, confiscation, requisition or damage to your building and/or contents;
19. biological or chemical contamination from any source;
20. loss, damage, liability or costs or expenses arising from or in any way connected with war, invasion, acts of foreign enemies, hostilities (whether war is declared or not), civil war, rebellion, revolution, insurrection or military or usurped power or by contamination or pollution by chemical, biological or nuclear agents which results from an act of terrorism;
21. direct or indirect exposure to radiation or contamination by radioactivity from any nuclear fuel, nuclear waste or nuclear material;
22. flammable substances, dangerous or hazardous goods where the quantities stored exceed statutory limits or other required limitations by a statutory authority;
23. any cleaning, restoration or alteration process;
24. computer hacking or being hacked;
25. computer viruses, bombs, worms, trojans, malware, ransomware, spyware or similar;
26. re-recording, re-installing, repairing, restoring or replacing electronically stored data, programs or files, or the value of such data, programs or files;
27. mechanical, electrical or electronic failure of an item, unless caused by an Insured Event or unless you have selected and paid the premium for the cover provided under the Optional Cover for Motor burnout (see page 41);
28. power surge, unless directly caused by an Insured Event;
29. building work, including any extensions or renovations, other than limited cover for legal liability as a result of building works (see pages 25 - 27);
30. hydrostatic pressure or hydrodynamic pressure;
31. any act of terrorism. Terrorism means an act or threat designed to influence or intimidate a government or the public (including any group of the public) with the intention of advancing a political, religious, ideological or similar purpose;
32. firearms and ammunition of any kind;
33. any epidemic, pandemic or contagious disease including but not limited to highly pathogenic avian influenza, rabies, cholera or diseases listed under the Biosecurity Act 2015 (Cth) (or any amendment, replacement, successor or delegated legislation), or any mutation of such disease, including any:

- fear or threat of an epidemic, pandemic or disease (whether actual or perceived);
 - action taken by a relevant public authority in controlling, preventing or suppressing an epidemic, pandemic or disease; or
 - cost or expense to clean-up, decontaminate, disinfect, remove, replace, monitor or test for any diseases or any property insured under this policy that is affected by or suspected to be affected by an epidemic, pandemic or disease;
34. any claim made for an event occurring before the policy commences or after it has expired, lapsed or is cancelled.

What is also not covered

35. any loss of profit;
36. to the maximum extent possible, your policy expressly excludes our liability for any indirect loss, financial or otherwise, and any non-financial loss you may suffer in relation to any claim;
37. loss of stock in trade, inventory and/or cash out of or in connection with any business, profession or occupation;
38. liability, business interruption, malicious acts, theft or attempted theft arising out of or in connection with any business, profession or occupation;
39. removing any tree stump from the ground or removing trees which have fallen but not damaged your building and/or contents;
40. compensation for distress, inconvenience or any other non-financial or consequential losses;
41. any event or activity for which you or your family are required by law to hold an insurance policy;
42. your liability under any other contract, or if you have agreed to or accepted liability without our agreement first; or
43. loss, damage, liability or costs or expenses arising from or in any way connected with non-conformance with any commonwealth, state, territory or local government law.

Sanctions

What is not covered

We will not provide cover, pay any claim or provide any benefit under this policy (including any refund of premium), to the extent that such cover, claim or benefit may contravene or expose us to any sanction, prohibition or restriction under United Nations resolutions or any trade or economic sanctions, laws or regulations of any country.

Other exclusions or special conditions may be specified on your Certificate of Insurance.

Premiums explained

What is your premium?

Your premium is the amount of money you agree to pay us for your policy including any Optional Covers you purchase.

How do we calculate your premium?

Your premium is calculated based on a number of criteria, such as:

- the cover you choose;
- the property and the location you want to insure;
- the limits and excesses that will apply; and
- your insurance history.

We will also look at other factors that increase or decrease the risk of a claim and factors that affect our business costs.

Your total premium will also include amounts covering government charges and taxes or levies we are responsible for, such as GST and Stamp Duty. This information will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance.

For more information about how we calculate premiums, excesses and discounts, or examples of how we may settle claims, please refer to the Premium, Excess and Discount Guide which can be found:

At commbank.com.au/insurancehome or

Call us on 13 13 61.

Your responsibilities

Paying your premium

You can choose to pay your premium in:

- 1 annual payment; or
- 12 monthly instalments.

We do not charge any additional premium if you select to pay your total premium in 12 monthly instalments, however your financial institution may impose charges.

For more information on ways you can pay your premium, please refer to the Premium, Excess and Discount Guide which can be found:

At commbank.com.au/insurancehome or

Call us on 13 13 61.

What happens if your premium is not paid on time

Auto-renewing policies

You need to make sure your premium payment(s) are up to date. It is important that you contact us if your bank or credit card details change.

Whether you choose to pay your premium in 1 annual payment or in 12 monthly instalments, if any payment amount due remains unpaid for a period of at least:

- 14 days after its due date, we may refuse to pay a claim; and
- one month after its due date, your policy may be cancelled.

We will send you a notice in writing advising you of non-payment at least 14 days before any proposed cancellation to provide you with an opportunity to make the outstanding payment.

Where we have sent you an offer of renewal for a new period of insurance but you have outstanding payments on the current policy as at the renewal date, then the renewal offer will be automatically withdrawn and you will not be covered for the new period of insurance. You will need to contact us if you wish to renew your policy.

If you have opted out of automatic renewal

If you have opted out of automatic renewals, and you do not contact us and/or pay your renewal premium before the due date, your policy will not renew, and your current policy will lapse on the expiry date set out on your Certificate of Insurance.

See 'Renewing your policy' (page 70) for more information about the renewal process, including opting in or out of automatic renewals.

Your responsibility to answer honestly

It is your responsibility to answer the questions we ask of you as honestly, accurately and completely as you can. You must also take reasonable care not to make any misrepresentations to us. We will use your answers to decide whether we can insure you, on what terms and for what premium. If you breach this responsibility, your policy may be cancelled or treated as if it never existed, or your claim may be denied or not paid in full.

If you are not sure of the answers to any of our questions, you should take the time to find out before providing a response. In answering the questions, you are answering for yourself and anyone else to whom the questions apply.

This responsibility applies when you enter into, vary, renew or reinstate an insurance policy with us. This includes checking if any information has changed or is inaccurate or incomplete. If you do not correct the information, we will take it that you agree with the information and that your answers are current, accurate and complete.

If any of our questions are not clear to you and you need help, you can contact us on 13 13 61.

Changes you must tell us about

You must tell us if anything stated on your Certificate of Insurance changes during the period of insurance. You must also comply with 'Your responsibility to answer honestly' above.

Everything you have told us about you and your home is replayed to you on your Certificate of Insurance. If anything stated in the certificate changes you must tell us, as it could impact the cover we can offer you.

If you tell us before you make any changes, we can tell you if we can continue to insure you:

- under the same terms; or
- subject to your acceptance of special conditions on your policy, which may change the amount of your premium or your excess(es).

If we cannot continue to insure you, or you do not agree to any special conditions or change in premium or excess(es) which we may require to continue to insure you, we will cancel your policy.

If you do not tell us about changes, we may:

- reduce the amount we pay in the event of a claim to the extent we have been prejudiced by your failure to tell us, potentially to nil; or
- cancel your policy.

Change of occupancy type

If the occupancy of your building changes from a home you live in to a landlord property you own but do not live in, or vice versa, you will need to contact us so we can change your Building and/or Contents Cover accordingly, subject to our underwriting criteria.

Change of use

You need to tell us if business, commercial or income-producing activities are going to be conducted at your insured address.

When building work is carried out

If you plan to carry out alterations, renovations or additions to your buildings with a total value of $50,000 or more you will need to contact us and inform us of the changes. We will confirm whether cover, subject to the exclusions below, can be extended during your renovation period.

When building works (of any value) to your buildings are underway you are not covered for:

- loss or damage caused by water entering your building due to building alterations, renovations or additions;
- loss or damage as a result of theft or attempted theft by a person who is at the insured address with your consent or the consent of another person who normally resides or resided at the insured address;
- loss or damage due to theft or attempted theft or where the building or insured address security has been compromised due to the works being carried out;
- legal liability in respect to any loss or damage caused by or as a consequence of the building renovations, alterations and/or additions if the total value of the project is greater than $50,000; or
- accidental damage caused by or as a consequence of the building alterations, renovations or additions.

Your policy will not cover you for loss or damage caused by the building works. If you require cover, you may need to take out a separate insurance product with another insurer. Hollard does not provide this type of cover.

When your home is unoccupied

When your home will be unoccupied for longer than a period of 60 consecutive days, cover for your building and/or contents will be restricted to the following Insured Events only:

- Fire (see page 20)
- Storm, rainwater and flood (see page 23)
- Lightning (see page 21)
- Earthquake, tsunami and volcanic eruption, (see page 18) and
- Impact (see page 21).

If your home will be unoccupied for more than 120 consecutive days you must tell us in advance. If we can continue to insure you we will advise, in writing, of any special conditions and/or additional premium that may apply. If you do not tell us in advance, we may:

- reduce the amount we pay in the event of a claim to the extent we have been prejudiced by your failure to tell us, potentially to nil; or
- cancel your policy.

You must ensure your building is maintained while unoccupied, and has the appearance of being lived in by:

- keeping the lawns mowed and garden tidy;
- stopping regular mail and newspaper deliveries; and
- arranging for someone to check inside and outside your home at least once a week.

Work out how much insurance you need

Many people do not have enough insurance cover for their building and/or contents. If you are underinsured, you will have to cover any shortfall yourself.

For example:

- If the amount your building is insured for is not equal to the full cost of rebuilding it, including the cost of any structural improvements such as carports, fences and pools, as well as the cost of any architectural or council fees, you may be underinsured. The cost of land is not, however, included in determining your sum insured.
- If your Contents sum insured is not enough to allow for the full replacement of all your contents, including your furniture, clothes, linen and other household goods, you may be underinsured.
- Cover for jewellery and watches is limited to a percentage of your Contents sum insured. Consider Portable valuables cover to insure your items for their full value if needed, or to cover these or other personal items if you take them outside the home.
- Some contents items have fixed limits. Please see pages 15 - 16.

Underinsurance of homes is a significant issue. You should spend time to assess your needs as we cannot advise you on the amount of cover you should insure for.

We have calculators available to help you estimate your sum(s) insured, these can be found at www.commbank.com.au/homeinsurancecalcs

Remember, this insurance only provides cover up to the applicable limits specified in this PDS and on your Certificate of Insurance.

Review the replacement value of your property regularly

Each year at your insurance renewal, we may adjust the amount you are insured for to help keep pace with inflation. In addition to this adjustment, you may also need to consider (amongst other things) the value of any new contents or recently completed improvements to your home.

If you do not review the replacement value of your building and contents annually and increase your cover where appropriate, you may become or remain underinsured.

The value of Portable valuables items listed by you are not adjusted by us and will remain insured for the values you originally advised to us unless you specifically ask us to increase them.

Interests of others in your building and contents

You must tell us of any other party that has an ownership or financial interest in your building and contents as they may need to be noted on your policy for their interest.

More than one policyholder

If there is more than one policyholder named on your Certificate of Insurance we will treat a statement, act, omission, claim or request to alter or cancel your policy made by one policyholder as coming from all of those named as a policyholder on your Certificate of Insurance.

We may correspond with any of the policyholders and it is the recipient's responsibility to ensure that all policyholders named on your Certificate of Insurance are aware of the correspondence.

Paperless correspondence

At time of policy application, you can elect to receive your policy documentation and policy related communications electronically. This includes email and/or other methods of electronic communication. You will need to provide us with your current email address and your mobile phone number. Each electronic communication will be deemed to be received by you on the transmission date recorded in our systems.

You also agree to save or print the communication or document and store it in a safe place for future reference. You can also ask us for a paper copy.

If you want to opt in or out of receiving communications electronically, let us know.

You are responsible for making sure we have your correct and up-to-date postal address, email address and other contact details at all times.

Keep proof of ownership of your property

When you make a claim for loss or damage to an item, we will require satisfactory proof of its value and that you owned the item, or your claim may not be paid. The easiest way to do this is by keeping documents related to the item.

The types of documents we ask for depend on the situation and may include:

- purchase receipts;
- valuation certificates (provided by an Australian qualified valuer);
- credit card or bank statements;
- instruction manuals;
- guarantee or warranty certificates; and
- original photographs or video/digital film of the item.

Keep your building and contents in good condition and well maintained

You must take reasonable steps to maintain your building and contents in a good state of repair and condition.

This includes, but is not limited to, taking reasonable steps to:

- ensure that the building is watertight, structurally sound and secure;
- ensure that gutters, downpipes and roof valleys are not clogged with debris and are not rusted, loose, falling down or missing;
- ensure that floors, walls or ceilings are intact and secure and that any damage to these items and any other parts of the building that are not the subject of a claim under this policy are repaired promptly;
- comply with all statutory obligations, government or local authority laws, regulations and by-laws; and
- ensure that all building maintenance or repairs to the building and/or contents are undertaken by an appropriately qualified person or licensed tradesperson.

Any loss, damage, liability, costs or expenses arising from your failure to take reasonable steps to maintain your building and contents in a good state of repair and condition will not be covered under your policy.

You must also make reasonable efforts to protect your building and contents from any loss or damage. If you knew about something that could cause loss or damage to your building or contents and you did not make reasonable efforts to avoid it before it caused loss or damage, then your claim may not be paid. For example, if you are aware of a hole in your roof and do not take steps to fix it and this allows subsequent storms to cause further damage, you may not be covered for the extra damage caused.

If you do suffer loss or damage to your building or contents, you must also make reasonable efforts to prevent any further loss or damage.

Making a claim

In the event of a claim, it is good to understand the process, so you know what to do and what to expect. Our claims team will support and guide you through the claim process.

What to do in the event of a claim

1. Secure your building and contents

Do what you can to prevent further loss, damage, cost or liability.

2. Report the loss or damage

Report the loss or damage to the police immediately if the claim involves theft, attempted theft, malicious acts, civil unrest or impact by a vehicle, and obtain an event number.

3. Contact us

As soon as it's reasonably possible, call our claims lodgement team on 13 13 61 or +61 2 8527 5217 from overseas, or log into the My Claims Portal in NetBank to lodge a claim online.

✗ Do not:

- admit guilt, fault or liability except to the police;
- offer or negotiate to pay any claim;
- approve any repairs, except essential repairs needed to minimise or prevent further loss or damage; or
- dispose of any damaged property.

If you do any of the above, we may reduce the amount we pay you in the event of a claim, potentially to nil.

Assessing your claim

After you have lodged a claim with us, we will assess it. When we are doing this, we may ask you for reasonable information and assistance to help with the process, including as set out below.

We may ask you for

- a face-to-face or telephone interview;
- written statements;
- relevant documents;
- proof of value and ownership that we need regarding lost or damaged items, such as receipts, invoices, bank or credit card statements, contracts of sale or original photographs; and
- details of any other insurance that relates to the claim.

We will require you to

Cooperate and assist us with all of our enquiries which are reasonably necessary to assess your claim or pursue recovery, including to:

- let us see or take possession of any damaged property;
- keep items that have been damaged and allow us to inspect them or assess repair costs;
- make your building and contents available for inspection by us or an assessor or agent appointed by us;
- send us any communication you receive about the claim from anyone else (including letters of demand and communication about court proceedings); and
- do everything you can to help us to negotiate, defend or settle your claim or to recover costs from another party responsible for the loss or damage to your building or contents.

Failure to comply with our reasonable requests may result in us reducing the amount we pay you in the event of a claim, potentially to nil, or requiring you to pay back any amounts we have already paid to you.

Claims for your building

If your building is destroyed or damaged as a result of an Insured Event or Accidental damage (when selected) under your policy, then at our option and subject to the terms and conditions of your policy, we will, if reasonably practicable, do one of the following:

- rebuild your building to the same condition as when it was new; or
- repair the damaged portion(s) of your building to the same condition as when it was new.

If either of these options are not reasonably practicable, we will pay you the reasonable cost of rebuilding or repairing your building to the same condition as when it was new.

If you decide not to proceed with the rebuild or repair of your building, we will pay you the reasonable amount to cover the cost of rebuilding or repairing your building as new, or the Building sum insured, whichever is lesser.

Excesses and other deductions may be applied to these options.

The maximum amount payable is the Building sum insured shown on your Certificate of Insurance, plus any benefits which are expressed as payable in addition to the sum insured under your policy.

We will do our best to source materials that are the same type, standard and specification as the original materials that require replacing. Where these materials are not available in Australia we will source and/or pay for the costs of materials that are of a similar kind or quality.

When this occurs and where the damaged part of the building is an item listed under 'What is covered' on page 61, then the Matching Benefit as referenced on pages 61 - 68 will apply.

If you are not satisfied with the materials we find to be of a similar kind or quality and we have not commenced the repairs to your building, you may request:

- to pay any extra costs of replacing the undamaged parts of your building with the original materials to achieve a uniform appearance; or
- that we pay you what it would have reasonably cost us to repair or replace the damaged part and you can organise the repairs yourself.

Claims for your contents

If your insured contents are lost, stolen or damaged as a result of an Insured Event or Accidental damage (when selected) under your policy, then, at our option and subject to the terms and conditions of your policy we will, if reasonably practicable, do one of the following:

- replace the item with the nearest equivalent new item; or
- repair the item to the condition it was in at the time immediately before it was lost, stolen or damaged.

If either of these options are not reasonably practicable, we will pay you the reasonable cost of replacing your contents to the same condition as when they were new or repairing your contents to the condition they were in.

The maximum amount payable is the Contents sum insured shown on your Certificate of Insurance (plus any benefits which are expressed as payable in addition to the sum insured under your policy) or any lesser limit that applies to the item, group of items or event, less any applicable excess.

The nearest equivalent will be reasonably determined having regard to the make, model, specification, cost, capacity and functionality of your contents.

If the lost or damaged item is part of a pair or collection, we will only pay for the repair or replacement of the damaged or lost item. We will not pay for any resulting decrease in the value of the collection.

If we pay you the sum insured for your contents, any items that can be salvaged become our property.

Portable valuables claims will be settled in the same way as claims for your contents.

Repair or replacement method

Replacement is on a new-for-old basis, but this does not apply to computers more than four years old, or to any clothing, shoes or household linen or items out of use, such as those stored away (this does not include clothing, shoes or household linen being stored for the offseason. For example, winter clothing being stored during summer). For these items we will pay the reasonable market value based on their age and condition at the time of loss.

Portable valuable items are replaced on a new-for-old basis.

Conditions

We will repair or replace your contents with new items or new materials that are available at the time of repair or replacement from Australian suppliers within Australia.

If we cannot source items or materials that are of the same type, standard or specification as the original materials, we will repair or replace to a similar kind or quality as if it were new or we will pay the reasonable replacement cost. When this occurs and where the damaged part of the contents is an item listed under 'What is covered' on page 61, then the Matching Benefit as referenced on pages 61 - 68 will apply.

We can replace with a different brand provided it is of similar kind and quality as the original.

We will not pay any extra cost of replacing or purchasing an extended warranty on any item or provide any items of a better standard, specification or quality than as if it were new.

Matching Benefit conditions

Conditions that apply

This section contains conditions that apply to Insured Event or Accidental damage (when selected) claims for the parts of your building that are listed below.

We outline below what is covered and what is not covered under the Matching Benefit.

In addition, there are policy 'General Exclusions' on pages 45 - 47 that may apply.

To make things easier, we have given you some examples on pages 63 - 67 of how your claim settlement may be calculated based on some common scenarios our claims team encounter.

Note: any actual claim settlement will be based on the individual circumstances of your claim.

What is covered

If your claim for loss or damage due to an Insured Event or Accidental damage (when selected) is covered under your policy, we may also provide coverage to replace certain undamaged materials in the same functional area or room to create a uniform appearance, inside your building. This is referred to as a Matching Benefit.

We will only provide this Matching Benefit where we are unable to source original materials, or materials that are the same type, standard or specification.

We will only match undamaged parts to the damaged parts within a functional area or room, if they are:

- continuously joined;
- on the same level or floor of your building; and
- made of the same material.

Where this Matching Benefit may apply, we may need to add a new separator, such as a floor trim, between two or more functional areas or rooms if damage is sustained to one functional area alone.

This Matching Benefit is restricted to the following undamaged materials in the same functional area or room where the damage occurred to:

- wall coverings;
- wall tiles;
- floor coverings; and
- fixed cabinets.

You are also covered for up to an additional $750 in any one claim for materials required to bring about a matching finish to undamaged garage doors, roof tiles, roof sheeting or external walls.

What is not covered

- loss or damage that occurs to any areas or items that are not defined or listed under the section 'What is covered';
- costs to repair or replace undamaged materials in any adjoining functional areas or rooms;
- costs to repair or replace undamaged items or areas on different levels or floors of your building; and
- costs to repair or replace undamaged garage doors, roof tiles, roof sheeting and external walls, other than the contribution of up to $750 as described under 'What is covered'.

What we mean by functional area or room

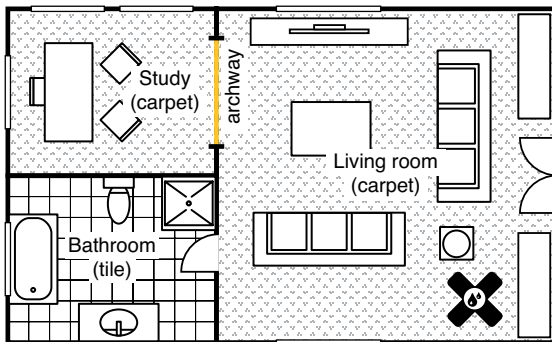

Functional area or room

Means areas inside your building that are separated by walls, floors, and a ceiling or used for an isolated purpose. They start and finish at the nearest functional area, wall, nearest doorway, archway or similar opening and/or a change in the floor or wall covering.

A passageway, hallway, stairs or corridor has the same definition as a functional area or room.

The example below shows what we mean by a functional area or room. The living room is one room, separated from the bathroom as there is a doorway and a change in floor covering from carpet to tiles. The living room is also separated from the study as there are two different uses for the two rooms and there is also an archway between the two rooms.

Matching Benefit – Example 1

If there was damage to the flooring at the spot marked 'X' in the living room, we would only repair or replace the flooring within this functional area. In this scenario, we may need to introduce a floor trim between the study and living room as per the yellow line, since the damage is contained within the living room alone.

Combined rooms

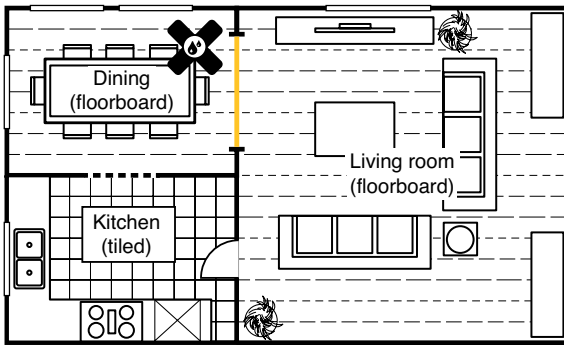

Means areas inside your building, excluding any outdoor areas, that have connecting rooms with identical wall and floor coverings which are shared by a common opening, such as a doorway or archway. Combined rooms will always have two or more functional areas or rooms. If there is damage to one functional area of a combined room, we will only match the sections within the damaged functional area of the combined room. In doing so, we may need to introduce a new separation such as a floor trim between the two or more functional areas.

The example below shows what we mean by a combined room. The dining room and living room is a combined room, however, it has two separate functional areas.

This is because while it has the same wall and floor coverings, the room is used for two different purposes being dining and casual living. There are two separate uses for these two functional areas because there is a dining table in the dining room and there is a couch in the living room.

The dining room and living room are separated from the kitchen as there is a change in floor coverings.

Matching Benefit – Example 2

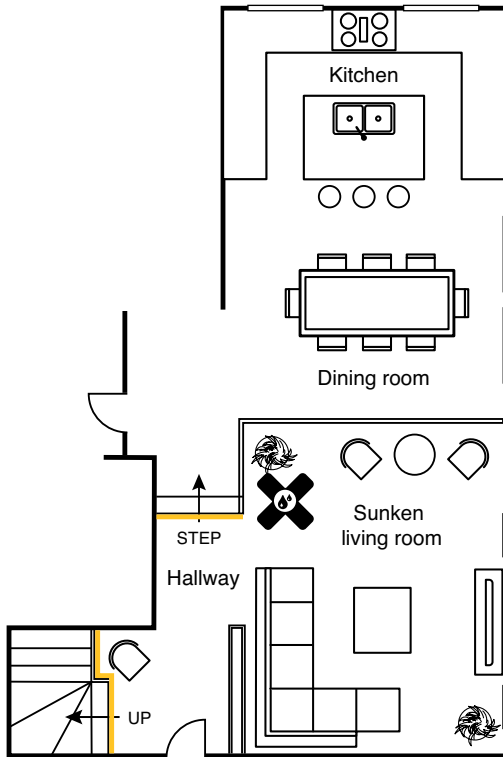

If there was damage to the flooring at the spot marked 'X' in the dining room, we would only repair or replace the flooring within this functional area up to the yellow line. In this scenario, we may need to introduce a floor trim between the dining room and living room along the yellow line.

Stairs

The example below shows a sunken living room which is separated by a step from the hallway. These two functional areas are separated because they are on two different levels and used for two different purposes.

Matching Benefit – Example 3

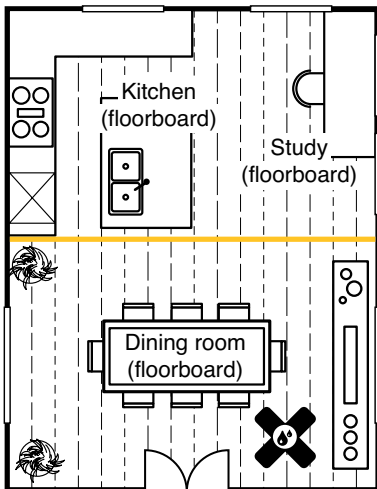

If there was damage to the flooring at the spot marked 'X' in the sunken living room, we would only repair or replace the flooring within this functional area up to the yellow line. In this scenario, we may need to introduce floor trims at the base of the steps along the yellow lines.

Open plan areas

Means areas inside your building that continue until separated by a functional area, a different floor or wall covering and/or the nearest wall, doorway, archway or similar opening.

The example below shows an open plan area which has three separate functional areas being a kitchen, a study room and a dining room. This is because there is a stove and sink in the kitchen, a dining table and chairs in the dining room and there is an office desk and chair in the study room. This is an open plan area because all three rooms have the same wall and floor coverings and are not separated by any walls, openings or archways.

Matching Benefit – Example 4

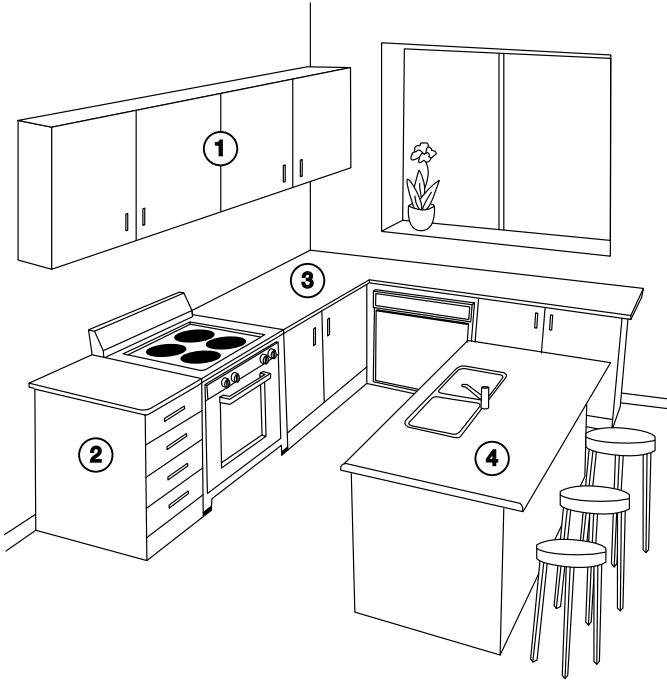

If there was damage to the flooring at the spot marked 'X' in the dining room, we would only repair or replace the flooring within this functional area up to the yellow line. In this scenario, we may need to introduce a floor trim along the yellow line.

Fixtures - kitchen example

In the example image of a kitchen below, we would treat areas 1, 2, 3 and 4 as separate sections because they are either not continuously joined or on the same level.

If there was damage to section(s) 1 or 4 alone, we would only pay to repair or replace these sections of your kitchen individually. In sections 2 and 3, the oven breaks up the two areas of cabinetry. If there was damage to section 3 alone, we would not repair or replace section 2.

How claims impact your insurance

After we pay a claim under your policy, the amount you are insured for will remain the same as the value shown on your Certificate of Insurance at the date of loss. This does not apply where we have paid out your sum insured in full.

If we pay out the sum insured (less an excess if applicable) for any item individually listed on your Certificate of Insurance, that item will be removed from your policy and you will have to notify us to add the replacement item and pay any additional premium if required.

If we pay your sum insured in full for your building or contents, the relevant cover will cease as soon as we accept liability. No premium refund is due if you have paid your premium annually. If you are paying your premium monthly, we will deduct the remaining balance of your yearly premium from any claim payments. You will need to contact us if you want to apply for a new policy for the replacement building and/or contents.

If there is a mortgage over your property

If a mortgagee (usually your bank or credit provider) is noted on your Certificate of Insurance and you have a claim which is covered and settled on a cash basis, we will, if legally obligated, make this payment to the mortgagee in full or part settlement of your claim.

In this situation, we will pay the mortgagee the amount we pay to settle the claim, up to the amount outstanding under your mortgage. We only cover your interest in the insured address, unless we specifically include cover for the interest of a third party.

Excesses

An excess is the amount(s) of money you pay or must contribute towards the cost of a claim. All excess amounts relevant to your cover will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance. When an excess applies you have to pay your Basic excess plus any applicable additional excess(es).

Excess types

There are different types of excesses, depending on what your claim relates to and the type of cover you have selected. You will find the amount of each excess on your Certificate of Insurance.

Excess types
Basic excess	The amount you have selected for your building and/or contents excess on your policy. You will need to pay this on each claim made under your policy, unless otherwise specified. Where you lodge a claim for the loss of or damage to both your building and contents caused by the same Insured Event, only the highest excess will apply.
Earthquake or flood	Claims for an earthquake or flood will be subject to the higher of your selected Basic excess or a fixed excess of $500 for each event.
Refrigerated food and/or refrigerated prescription medicines	Where this is the only loss/damage being claimed for, a fixed excess of $100 will apply.
Optional Cover(s) 'Motor burnout' and 'Portable valuables' cover	A fixed excess of $100 applies for any claim made under these Optional Covers. Your selected Basic excess does not apply for these claims.

For more information about how we calculate premiums, excesses and discounts, or examples of how we may settle claims, please refer to the Premium, Excess and Discount Guide which can be found:

Renewing your policy

1

Unless you have opted out of automatic renewals, we will send you a renewal offer at least 14 days prior to the renewal date of the policy. It will set out information such as the premium and excess for the new period, any fees that may apply, information you have previously told us, and it may also include notice of any proposed changes to the terms of the policy to be renewed. In some cases, we may offer to renew your policy with a different level of cover. If we do not offer to renew your policy, we will send you a notice telling you this.

2

Where you receive a renewal offer, you must tell us if the information contained in it is incorrect or incomplete and you must comply with 'Your responsibility to answer honestly' (see page 50). If you don't tell us, and the correct or missing information would have changed the terms of the cover we offered you, we may reduce or refuse to pay a claim or cancel the renewed policy.

3

If you do not wish to proceed with a renewal, or if you need to disclose any further information to us, please call us as soon as possible.

If you pay your premium by direct debit and you do not tell us that you do not wish to proceed with renewal, we will automatically deduct the renewal premium from your nominated account/credit card on your renewal date. However, any offer to renew your policy for a new period of insurance is conditional on all premium payments on your current policy being up to date. If you have outstanding payments on your current policy as at the renewal date, then any renewal offer received will be automatically withdrawn and you will not be covered for the new period of insurance. You will need to contact us if you wish to renew your policy. If you pay your premium by invoice and wish to renew your cover, please pay the renewal premium on the Certificate of Insurance by the due date. See also, 'What happens if your premiums are not paid on time' (page 49) for more information.

You also have a 21 day cooling off period following the renewal of your policy that allows you to cancel your policy and receive a refund of the premium paid, see the '21 day cooling off period' (page 47) for further information. You can also cancel after the 21 day cooling off period, see 'Cancelling your policy' (page 73) for further information.

If you have opted out of automatic renewals, we will send you a notice advising you whether we will offer renewal, and if so, ask you to contact us if you would like to renew your cover. If you do not contact us, your policy will end. You can opt in or out of automatic renewals by calling us on 13 13 61.

Note: each renewal is a separate policy, not an extension of the prior policy.

This PDS (together with any amendments, updates or endorsements) also applies to any offer of renewal we make, unless we tell you otherwise or issue you with a new PDS or SPDS.

21 day cooling off period

If you decide that your policy is not for you and you have not made a claim, or an event has not occurred that could give rise to a claim on your policy, you may cancel your policy within 21 days of it starting (this also applies to each renewal) and we will refund any premiums you have paid.

Even after this cooling off period ends, you still have cancellation rights – see page 73.

Cancelling your policy

If you want to cancel

You may cancel your policy by contacting us.

If you cancel your policy outside the cooling off period, we will refund any unused portion of the premium you've paid, less any non-refundable government charges. However, if this amount is $5 or less, we will not issue a refund.

When we may cancel your policy

We may cancel your policy where permitted by and in accordance with the law. For example, if you:

- do not comply with the policy terms and conditions;
- do not pay your premium as agreed;
- make a fraudulent claim;
- did not comply with 'Your responsibility to answer honestly'; or
- misrepresented information when you entered into your policy.

If we pay your sum insured in full, your policy comes to an end and there is no refund of premium.

How to make a complaint

If you have a complaint or dispute, we are committed to working with you to resolve it as quickly as possible.

Get in touch with us about your concerns, and we will do our best to resolve them straight away.

If we are unable to, or if you are still not satisfied, our Dispute Resolution Team will review your complaint and provide you with a response. You will be provided with the contact details of the person looking after your complaint and you will receive regular progress updates.

When you make a complaint, please provide us with as much information as possible.

Other important information

How we protect your privacy

We and our agents (referred to in this privacy provision as 'we', 'us' and 'our') will, at various times or stages during our communication with you, collect some of your personal information.

We collect personal information to provide, offer and administer our various products and services, or otherwise as permitted by law.

We may collect your personal information so that we or our related entities or other third parties with whom we have a relationship can develop or offer you services or products which we believe may be of interest to you, however we will not do so if you tell us not to.

Collection can take place in person, through websites, email, telephone or in writing. If you do not consent to us collecting and using the personal information we request, we may not be able to provide you with our services or products.

We may exchange some of your personal information with our distribution partner, CBA, so that we and CBA may develop an integrated view of you as a CBA Group customer (where applicable). We may use this information for any of the purposes mentioned above. To learn more about how CBA collect and handle personal information, please refer to CBA's Privacy Statement on their website commbank.com.au/support/privacy

We may at times also disclose your personal information to our related companies or third party service providers (including those who may be located overseas) who provide services on our behalf. For further information please refer to hollard.com.au/privacy-policy/ These details can change from time to time and you should contact us for further details to see if this applies to you.

Your consent applies when you apply for insurance or become or remain insured with us. You can read more about how we collect, use and disclose your personal information or our complaints process regarding a breach of the Australian Privacy Principles in our Privacy Policy which is available at hollard.com.au/privacy-policy/ or you can request a free copy.

Gathering and combining data to get insights

Improvements in technology enable organisations, like us, to collect and use information to get a more integrated view of customers and provide better products and services.

Hollard may combine customer information it has with data from its distribution partner, CBA, in order to gain useful insights which can be used for any of the purposes described in 'How we protect your privacy' on the previous page.

Claim payments and Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Any claim payments made under this policy will be based on GST inclusive costs, up to the relevant amount covered, or maximum amount that we pay. However, if you are, or would be, entitled to claim any input tax credit for the repair or replacement of insured property or for other things covered, we will reduce any claim under the insurance by the amount of such input tax credit.

You are required to tell us your entitlement to an input tax credit on your insurance premium and for your claim.

Governing law

Any disputes arising out of or under this policy shall be determined by the courts, and subject to the laws of the state or territory in Australia where the insured address is located.

Financial Claims Scheme

Should Hollard become no longer able to meet its obligations to you under the policy, you may be entitled to a payment under the Financial Claims Scheme.

Access to the Scheme is subject to eligibility criteria. Further information about the Scheme can be obtained from fcs.gov.au or their hotline 1300 558 849.

General Insurance Code of Practice

Hollard is a signatory to the General Insurance Code of Practice (Code). The objectives of this Code are to:

- commit insurers to high standards of service;
- promote better, more informed relations between insurers and customers;
- maintain and promote trust and confidence in the general insurance industry;
- provide fair and effective mechanisms for resolving customer complaints; and
- promote continuous improvements of the general insurance industry through education and training.

The Code Governance Committee (CGC) is the independent body that monitors and enforces compliance with the Code. It also aims to drive better Code compliance, helping the insurance industry to improve its service to consumers.

For more information about the CGC, or to obtain a copy of the Code, please visit www.codeofpractice.com.au or phone 1300 884 934.

Extra Care Process

We recognise that our customers may find themselves in difficult circumstances, particularly when a claimable event occurs. We have developed an Extra Care Process to provide additional support to our customers who may be experiencing vulnerability due to their circumstances, including personal circumstances that are not directly related to insurance. The Code provides the following examples that may contribute to someone needing extra care:

- age;
- disability;
- mental health conditions;
- physical health conditions;
- family violence;
- language barriers;
- literacy barriers;
- cultural background;
- Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander status;
- remote location; or
- financial distress.

More information about the extra care we can offer and how we support customers is available at www.hollard.com.au/vulnerable-customers
